Firearms & Explosive Licensing Unit

Notes

This is the third incarnation of a data set the Firearms & Explosive Licensing Unit (FELU) wish to publish on a regular (at least quarterly) basis.

This set of data is derived predominantly from information held within the National Firearms Licensing Management System (NFLMS).

NOTE: IN THIS PACK WE MOVE FROM A 6 TO 12 MONTH REPORTING PERIOD IN LINE WITH NATIONAL REPORTING.

This set will evolve as FELU in Devon & Cornwall Police continue to transition from an old IT system in use prior to February 2025 to its new system, Niche. This data is published to demonstrate transparency and engage our customers and certificate holders.

If there are questions, please see our Contact page on the dedicated Firearms Licensing site:

112 Day Service Level

Following the Fee increase in February 2025 nationally an ideal service level has emerged for Firearms License applications that are non-complex to be completed within 4 months.

Within Devon & Cornwall we have refined this service level to consider work that, due to safety or other considerations, can and should be completed sooner or to account for factors outside of our control such as later submission.

The non-complex element is intended to promote safety and ensure there are no time limits applied to work which requires detailed and thorough investigation or research. This means, in practice, any work which suggests a license issue cannot take place at first pass will be deemed complex and not subject to the 112-day / 4 months.

The target suggested is 4 months, we have adopted a 112-day target (16 weeks) to remove the variable number of days in months and align more closely to how legislation is written.

The next 2 slides details the service level and our current performance against it.

The management team in FELU are focussed on ensuring where possible all non-complex work is contained within the service level target.

If you have an outstanding application or task that is over 112-days old, please contact the unit.
